

Call for applications: IAA subsidies, deadline 1st of March

The IAA invites and encourages all advanced students and early beginning scholars to apply for the IAA Subsidies for Cuneiform Studies and Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology.

The IAA subsidies fund is meant for projects of a limited duration carried out by advanced students and beginning scholars within five years after obtaining their doctoral degree. The subsidy will cover the costs of a project up to 1000 Euros.

The deadline for all applications is the 1st of March.

Please direct your questions and send your applications in one pdf file to the following email address: IAAsubsidies@iaassyriology.org

Information on the prize and the application form can be found at <https://iaassyriology.com/iaa-fund/>

We kindly ask all institutions and supervisors to distribute and circulate this call for applications among the potential candidates.

Best regards,

Aaron Schmitt (head of IAA subsidies committee), Nicole Brisch and Niek Veldhuis (committee members)